2. The format is a 10 team year-round fantasy league, with an initial start-up draft of 25 rounds.
3. Each owner is required to draft a starting lineup of 1-QB, 2-RB, 2-WR, 1-TE, 1-FLEX, 1, SUPERFLEX, 1-K, 1-D/ST. If you do not draft a complete starting roster, the Commissioner may add a player at their discretion after the draft to ensure a valid roster.
4. During the offseason, each JADL team will protect 25 players (including at least 1 Kicker and 1 Defense/ST) and release any 5 players.
5. Each off-season, following the NFL draft, there will be a 5 round rookie/free agent draft in which any player (or defense) not currently owned may be drafted.
6. Prior to the start of the season, each owner must cut their roster down to 25 players.

Rules and League Structure

7. The League Season will begin the Friday PRIOR to Thursday's Opening Game in NFL Week 1 and conclude after NFL Week 16. The JADL off-season will be defined as the remainder of the year other than Weeks 1 through 16. All references to "points", "total points" or "points total" imply starting lineup points.

8. JADLs will each be comprised of 10 teams/participants/managers/owners and the regular season will run from Week 1 through Week 16.
9. In each of the subsequent years, there will be a Roster cut-down deadline after the conclusion of each NFL Season. All rosters must be cut-down from 30 players to 25 players by 11:59 pm on March 31st of each year.
10. Failure to do so will result in the league commissioner cutting players for the team in question. Once the March 31st deadline passes, teams may go over the 25 player roster limit.
11. The Maiden (start-up) Draft will be held online, on a predetermined date and time during the off-season. A random drawing will be used to determine draft order at an online meeting as soon as possible after all ten player have registered their teams. It will be supplied via the Whatsapp group shortly thereafter.
12. The Maiden draft will be a live draft with a 120 second timer for each pick.
13. Owners are encouraged to draft as quickly as they can and should use their queue, one pick auto, rankings and other features to avoid issues during the draft.
14. League structure will be as follows:
15. Each team will play in 13 weekly regular season Head to Head match-ups in Weeks 1-13. The 6 top seeded teams at the end of the regular season will play in League Playoffs in NFL Weeks 14, 15 & 16 to determine the Jessica Alba Dynasty League Champion. The top two teams at the end of the regular season will earn the #1 and #2 Seeds and the #1 will be awarded a Regular Season prize. The top point scoring team will be awarded a Regular Season Prize. Both the #1 and #2 Seeds will receive a Bye in the Week 14 Playoff Round.

Minimum Roster requirements

16. Each team's roster must have a minimum of 1 QB, 2 RBs, 2 WRs, 1 TE, 1 K and 1 D/ST at all times during the JADL offseason. During the JADL Season, a 25 player roster is required with a minimum of one player at each required starting position: QB, RB, WR, TE, K, D/ST.
17. All dynasty owners must draft a complete starting lineup including a kicker and a defense in the Maiden startup draft. Failure to do so may result in the Commissioner cutting players as needed and adding a kicker and/or defense.
18. During the JADL off-season, rosters will be allowed to exceed, or be diminished by the yearly requirement of 25 players through trades and rookie/free agent draft acquisitions ONLY. Any team whose roster exceeds the yearly player limit will be required to release the extra players prior to the start of the JADL Season. The Dynasty roster cut down date is one week prior to the day of the first game of the NFL season. All teams must be down to a maximum of 25 active players at that time. IR'ed players do not count as part of the 25.

19. When the JADL Season begins, any team below the yearly player roster is permitted to make blind bid waiver wire acquisitions to meet the in-season roster requirements.
20. The starting lineup for JADL teams is 1 QB, 2 RB, 2WR, 1 TE, 1 FLEX (RB, WR, or TE), 1 SUPERFLEX (QB, RB, WR, or TE), 1 K and 1 DEF/ST.
21. It is the responsibility of every owner to submit a competitive lineup every week of the JADL season. Tanking is expressly and strictly prohibited. The Rookie Draft system has been designed to avoid any advantage to finishing bottom of the league. The last place team will not by default receive the No.1 pick in the following Rookie Draft.
22. The Commissioner may (but is not required to) alter a lineup for any team where a starting lineup is submitted with players who are inactive as a result of being on a Bye Week, on suspension, or on their NFL team's I.R. list. Lineups may also be changed if a very low-ranked player is started over a consensus top player, or for whatever reason if the Commissioner sees that the original lineup lessens the competitiveness of the team in question. Tanking in the form of not doing waivers, not moving Injured Reserve players to IR, and picking up low-quality players to minimize one's score is also prohibited. The Commissioner has the final discretion on all lineup changes.

Disputes and Appeals

23. All disputes and appeals must be submitted to the league commissioner. The league commissioner's decisions are considered final. The Commissioner reserve the right, at their discretion, to call for a vote by all league members to help decide certain issues.

Trading Rules

24. Trading is permitted. All trades are expected to be executed in good faith and with the goal of improving one's roster over the short or long-term. Unethical trading or roster dumping are not permitted and can, in extreme circumstances, lead to trade reversal, sanctions, and banishment from the JADL without the return of deposit.
25. Trades are free of charge. A trade becomes official once both teams have accepted the terms of the trade.

26. Trades occurring during the JADL Season may involve unequal amounts of players and/or draft picks, but each team must adjust their roster as needed to stay at 25 players or less upon consummation of the trade. In-season trades may include future draft picks for the next two drafts ONLY. Players that already have played for the week cannot be traded after their game until the following week. The trade deadline during the JADL Season is before Sunday Kickoff of Week 11 of the NFL season. There is no trading between this deadline and the end of the NFL regular season.
27. Trades occurring during the JADL Off-season may involve an unequal number of players exchanged by both teams. Off-season trades may include future draft picks for the next two drafts ONLY. There is no trade deadline during the JADL Off-season. However, trades before the Rookie/Free Agent draft must be completed 24 hours prior to draft to allow the Commissioner to alter rosters and the draft order where necessary. Trades can be made immediately after the completion of Week 17 game.
28. A trade can be protested by any team for consideration by the Commissioner. Only trades where there are genuine errors agreed by both parties in the trade before any points have been scored are likely to be overturned. The league is expected to be played in a friendly and competitive manner on the basis of mutual respect and trust. The Commissioner will only consider intervening in a trade in highly exceptional or extreme circumstances.

Injury Reserve Transactions

29. During the Season, a team may place a player on IR if they appear on their NFL teams Injured Reserve List. The team may then replace the IR player and pick up a player via the blind bid waiver wire process. IR moves are free of charge. Any free agent who is listed on IR by an NFL team and is then drafted or acquired via the waiver wire is eligible for the IR list. A team may have a maximum of 5 players on the IR list at any one time. The official site for determining a player's IR status will be NFL.com. Players on the IR list are eligible to be traded to another team. If an NFL team activates a player on IR to their active roster, owners must activate or cut that player within the next 3 days during the JADL season. All players must be removed from injured reserve prior to the March 31st roster cut-down date.

IR Qualification

30. Any player on NFL Injured Reserve, NFL Injured Reserve-Eligible to Return, NFL-PUP list, NFL-NFI (non-football injury) list can be placed on Injured Reserve. A player that is Suspended or Out for the week cannot be placed on Injured Reserve.

Yearly Rookie/Free Agent Draft

31. In each subsequent year after the Maiden draft, an off-season draft for rookies and free agents called the Rookie/Free Agent draft will be held. This will be after the second Friday after of the completion of the NFL draft as agreed by owners.
32. The Rookie/FA draft will last 5 rounds.

Rookie Draft Order

33. The top 4 draft picks will be assigned to the 4 non-playoff teams in the following manner:
34. The bottom 4 teams will compete in a head-to-head playoff for draft pick position. The team that wins get the #1 pick, takes 2nd gets #2, etc. Teams are seeded in inverse order with the worst team getting the #1 seed, second worst getting the #2 seed, and so on. During wildcard week (week 14), all teams get a bye.
35. During Week 15 seed 1 will face the seed 4 and seed 2 will face seed 3. During Week 16 the two winners of Week 15 will face off to be crowned Champion, the two losing teams will face off to decide the 3rd and 4th picks. With this system, the 4th worst team still has a shot at the 1.1-1.4 as does every other non-playoff team (avoiding the benefit of tanking).
36. The previous season champion and runner up will receive the #10 and #9 pick, respectively. The other 4 playoff teams will be slotted in inverse order of the final standings in the most recent regular season.
37. The Rookie/Free Agent draft is a straight draft, going from picks 1-10, and then back to 1 again. It is NOT a serpentine draft. The team with pick 1.01 will have pick 2.01, 3.01, etc. unless any of those picks have been traded.

Rookie Draft Eligibility

38. The Rookie/FA draft shall include any NFL free agents that are not on a current JADL roster, as well as all rookies selected during the NFL draft and rookie undrafted free agents. Any players drafted in the supplemental NFL draft after the start of the Rookie/FA draft will be entered into the JADL free agent pool and be eligible for pickup at the start of the blind bid process.

39. JADL teams will be allowed to carry all drafted players during the Off-season until the Final cut-down date. The Final cut down date will one week prior to the day of the first game of the NFL season.

Scoring, Lineup Submission and Position Designation

40. The starting lineups will consist of: 1 QB, 2 RB, 2 WR, 1 TE, 1 Flex (RB, WR or TE), 1 Superflex (QB, RB, WR or TE), 1 and 1 Defense/Special Team. Starting lineups may be submitted to the Fantrax system. The deadline for lineup submission for each player via website or app is five minutes prior to the scheduled start time of the game in which the player is participating.
41. Player position eligibility and designation is determined by the Official NFL during the pre-season and may be changed any time before the start of the NFL season. JADL participants agree to accept these designations and understand the final position designations may be different from the time their drafts were conducted.
42. The JADL will use the Half Point Per reception (PPR) scoring system.

Free Agency Acquisitions and Blind Bidding

43. The following free agent blind bidding process is the only means by which free agents may be acquired in the JADL Season. There are no other ways to acquire free agents like 'worst-to-first' and 'first-come-first-served' or any other waiver methods other than blind bidding as described below.
44. Any active NFL player which is not on a roster in the individual league is considered a free agent for that league and may be available for pick-up. Players dropped by a team are placed into the free agent player pool and will be available for pick-up (see below for exclusions).
45. The free agent acquisition process is made by way of "blind bidding". Each team is given 1,000 free agent "dollars" at the start of a season (not real money), which they may use to bid on free agents during a weekly blind bidding process. Bids will remain hidden from the rest of the league until after all the winning bids have been awarded. Free agent players will be awarded to the team with the highest bid for that free agent, and the winning bid amount will be deducted from that team's free agent dollars. Besides the winning bid, all other bids for that free agent are considered losing bids and are cancelled. At this point, the highest remaining bid by any team for any remaining free agent will be considered. The team with this winning bid will be awarded the free agent and all losing bids for that free agent will be cancelled. This process will continue until every remaining bid has been considered.

46. All JADL teams will be allowed to bid on players during all waiver wires during the Season.
47. Due to the weekly Thursday games in the NFL schedule, there are two (2) weekly blind bidding processes. The first "Primary" blind bidding process will take place on Wednesday with the second "Supplementary" process taking place on Friday.
48. The deadline for bid submission for both Wednesday and Friday is determined by the Fantrax system.
49. All free agent NFL players will be available for the Wednesday bidding process.
50. NFL players which are dropped during Wednesday's bidding process will NOT be available for pickups on Friday (48 hours later) and will ONLY become available for next week's Wednesday bidding process.
51. Free agent NFL players whose teams played on Thursday will NOT be available for pickups on Friday (following Thursday's game) and will ONLY become available for next week's Wednesday bidding process.
52. After the completion of Week 1, the blind bidding processes will be available weekly and will continue until prior to Week 16 for ALL teams in the JADLs. Rosters will be updated with the results of all successful bids following the completion of the blind bidding process.
53. All players cut during Weeks 1 through Week 16 free agent bidding processes WILL REMAIN in the free agent pool and will be available to be re-acquired by teams as long as the free agency bidding processes remain open.
54. The Commissioner reserves the right to remove a dropped player(s) from the free agent pool or reinstate that player(s) back to its original team, if the Commissioner determines that doing so is the interest of upholding the integrity of the contest, or that the dropped player(s) would unfairly impact the outcome of the league. In this extremely rare instance, all participants will be notified and an explanation will be given.

Bidding Tiebreakers

55. In the event that there is a tie between bids, the team which is awarded the player will be determined in order by inverse order of the league standings.

- 56. Teams may submit as many bids as they like. There are no limitations as to the number of players that may be acquired by any one team during the course of the weekly blind bidding processes or during the course of the year, provided teams remain within the maximum number of 25 players allowed on each roster.
- 57. The minimum bid amount is $0.

Playoff Structure

- 58. The 13-week regular season will run from NFL Week 1 through NFL Week 13. Over the course of the regular season, each of the 10 teams in the JADL will play Head-to-Head matchups vs. the rest of the league. Each team will play four teams twice to make up the 13 games. All H2H head matchups will be scored based on a half point PPR format and the league standings will be a result of the number of victories that each team accumulates.
- 59. The weekly league standings will be based on the number of total victories each team has accumulated to date. If there is a tie between teams in weekly points scored the following tiebreakers will be used to determine the league table as follows:
 - 1. Most total points to date
 - 2. Head to head record vs team(s) tied with
 - 3. Most wins to date
 - 4. Least points against to date
- 60. At the conclusion of Week 13, 6 teams from the JADLs will earn a berth in the League Playoffs in Weeks 14, 15 and 16. These 6 teams will be the top six teams in the league at the conclusion of Week 13, seeded one to six from first to sixth. Top 2 seeds get bye in Week 14. During Week 14, seed #3 will face seed #6 and seed #4 will face seed #5. During Week 15 seed 1 will face the winner of #3/#6 and seed 2 will face the winner of #4/#5. During Week 16 the two winners of Week 15 will face off to be crowned Champion.
- 61. Seed #1 will win a regular season award (as listed in the prize section).

Prize Distribution

- 62. Winners will be notified by WhatsApp within 10 days after the final league and overall results are posted on the Fantrax website. All award money will be paid in no later than 10 days after the end of the overall season.
