

Jessica Alba Dynasty League – 2024 Season Review – Part One

1. Introduction

So gents, we are about third of the way through the regular season already so I thought I'd take the time to update you on our progress and hand out some minor awards.

2. Week 5

What a week 5 was with another record score – well, personal best – and the competition is really heating up!

The MFC reigned supreme, with just you noble Commissioner preventing a clean sweep of victories. Dave narrowly won to maintain both his hoodoo over me and also, and probably less importantly given his competition, his unbeaten run.

In the battle of the conference champions Lee smashed Mike by over 60 points and set a marker of intent going forwards. Chris put up his record top score at the Penitentiary to keep Alex's high scoring rookies at bay. In the unsurprisingly lowest scoring game of the week, Ross overcame Rich in a rather lacklustre affair. Last but not least the two bottom dwellers dueled it out with Neil keeping pace with Ross and keeping Gareth winless so far.

3. League Leaders

As you all know, Dave is sitting pretty on top of the LFC. Your noble Commissioner tops the MFC with Lee hot on his heels by just 1.14 points. 🏆

4. League Losers

It is Gareth who is presently at the bottom of the pile in the LFC with a 5-game beaten run. In the MFC it is Neil who is at the base of the MFC on points over Ross. 🤡

5. Top Scorer

Your noble Commissioner is also our highest points scorer with 787.72 points with Lee behind on 786.58 points and Alex back in the playoff picture after 4 years with 730.34 points. 🔥

6. Fewest Points

It's obviously Gareth and his Mandos who has scored the fewest points with just 473.20. Next closest is Rich who has more than 100 points more at 580.80 points. 🤡

7. Potential Points

Since we decide the draft order based on potential points, I'll give a short lowdown on those at the bottom of the conferences. It is unsurprisingly Gareth who would be taking the highest available pick with 582.24, followed by Rich at 643.60. In the MFC and Neil would have the lowest pick with 756.24 and Ross next up with 810.24.

8. Best Defence

The best 'defence' has been Dave who has only conceded 562.16 points. The team who has conceded the most is Gareth with 787.06 🏠

9. Least FAAB used

Neil has spent nothing!! 💰

Honourable mention to Gareth who has only spent $66.

10. Most FAAB used

In his desperation for trying to get back in the playoffs, Chris has already spent $855 of his FAAB! Honourable mention to Mike who has spent $717.

11. Best Manager

Our best manager has been Rich with three awards. He is also out in front picking up 90.2% of his potential points. Honourable mentions to Chris at 87.6% and your noble Commissioner at 86.7%. Our worst manager is spread across Alex, Gareth, Lee, Neil and Ross with an award each. But it is Neil ahead with just 78.2% of his projected points. Mike is in second with 78.4% and Alex third at 78.7%.

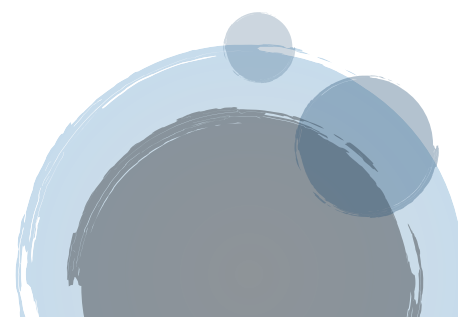

12. MVP Picker

Lee is our 'MVP Picker' award winner with no fewer than 9 top scoring players. 🧠 Honourable mentions to Ross with 5 and your noble Commissioner with 4. Dave, Neil and Rich appear to have few outstanding players – they have just one top scoring player each. 😞

13. Benchwarmer

Chris and Rich share our 'Benchwarmer' Award winner with no top scoring benchwarmers. 🐼 This may be a reflection on how bad their benches are. Your Noble Commissioner has left masses of points on his bench 7 times! Honourable mentions to Ross with 6! 🧑

14. Week 6

Once again it's an LFC vs MFC week! As the LFC are the home sides I'll go in reverse order of their conference. First up is a seeming dead rubber in Lee vs Gareth. It would be a gargantuan shock if Gareth managed a victory this week.

Next up is Rich who is welcoming the inmates to his arena. Rich's team is plagued by injuries and bye weeks so the Felons might be able to keep ahead of the MFC basement dwellers with the playoffs firmly in sight.

Next up is Mike's Tompa Bay Bucs who take on a Rookies Nest who finally picked up another win. Both sides should be looking to keep those playoff hopes alive but can the Bucs win without Sam Darnold?

Next up is the Toolsy Prospects who couldn't escape from the Penitentiary last week with a win. They face a team reeling from their first loss trying to maintain their slender lead in the MFC. They have a more or less full strength side so the wind is in their favour against a side beset by injuries and bye weeks.

Last but not least is the unbeaten breecetie boys coming off another standard victory against your noble Commissioner, facing his favourite trading partner, Neil. With Neil more impacted by the bye week and Dave's excellent form, a victory for the team that provided Dave with all his best players seems unlikely.

15. Conclusion

It's been a great start to the season with a few teams in with a good shout of making the playoffs. There's still time to make moves to improve your fortunes or focus on the future.

Some questions remain: Will anyone be able to catch Dave? Will Gareth win another game? Can the MFC steal a 4th playoff spot from the LFC? Are we witnessing the dawn of the Toolsy Prospects? With Burden, Sanders and McMillan likely available in the '25 draft is winning all that important?
