

Jessica Alba Dynasty League – 2024 Season Review – Part Two

1. Introduction

So gents, with the end of the round-robin and before we start our conference rounds, it's the second mid-season review. We'll take a look at where we are, hand out some minor awards and see where we may be going.

2. Round-Robin Review

LFC

First up I'll start with the bottom of the LFC with Rich beating Gareth to seal Gareth's place in the toilet bowl and yet another run at the Golden Turd taking permanent residence in Mandalore. It wasn't all negative for the Mandos though. They put up over 100 points again and they left some points on the bench. There's hope for that 1.01 yet. Rich is only one win behind 3rd place so the playoffs aren't an impossibility yet!

At the top of the LFC, Alex took advantage of Dave's inept QB selections to move him back into second and in line for his second ever playoffs appearance. Dave's had a tough second phase of the season and is now just one game ahead of second place after terrific start to the season. I'll avoid premature ejaculation jokes and just suggest he might have peaked too soon.

MFC

Again, I'll start at the bottom of the conference and Ross has put a couple of 160+ points performances together to put him back in the playoff hunt. His success comes at the expense of Neil though, whose score would have won any other matchup this week. Neil's going to need a magnificent conference run to make the playoffs in this hyper-competitive conference.

The Boy Scouts went to The Penitentiary and won again keeping pressure on the leader and separating himself from third and fourth (as well as his points scored advantage). For Chris' Felons, it's back-to-back losses and just a points difference advantage keeping him in the guaranteed playoff spot.

Elsewhere, it was a rematch of the last two Championship games and, unfortunately for Mike, it was the same result again. Your noble Commissioner is now guaranteed a winning record and is one win away from securing a playoff spot. Mike had been in a rich vein of form and needs to get back on the horse quickly as that loss leaves him in third with a losing record. You all know what that means – as things stand the MFC has four playoff spots and Mike would be headed for the toilet bowl with two of his conference mates.

3. Conference Leaders

As above, Dave and your noble Commissioner sit atop of their conferences. 🏆

The winner of the second phase of the season is your noble Commissioner at 4-0. Honourable mentions to Alex and Ross who are both 3-1.

4. Conference Losers

As you all know, Gareth and Neil are presently bottom of the pile in their conferences. 🤡

But it is Gareth who is bottom of the pile for the second phase of the season with 0-4 record. Honourable mentions to Dave and Neil who are 1-3.

5. Top Scorer

Your noble Commissioner is now the highest points scorer with a record breaking 1,453.50 points at this stage. 🔥 Lee is second with over 1,350 points than four teams with over 1,200 points.

6. Fewest Points

Going hand in glove with his terrible record, Gareth continues to score the fewest points with just 820.94 points. 🤡

7. Potential Points

Since the draft order is mainly based on potential points, I'll give a short lowdown on those at the bottom. Gareth would be taking the highest available pick with 1,064.08, followed by Rich at 1,230.80. Conversely, Mike would have the lowest pick with 1,560.32 followed by Neil with 1,420.58.

8. Best Defence

The best 'defence' has switched from Dave to your noble Commissioner who has only conceded 1,085.14, just ahead of Dave at 1,161.72. 🏠 The team who has conceded the most remains Gareth with 1,369.90, more than eight teams have even managed to score! Honourable mention to Alex who has also conceded 1,246.24 points!

9. Least FAAB used

Neil has the most of his FAAB left, having spent just $50! 💰

Next closest is Dave with $907 remaining!

10. Most FAAB used

In their desperation for victories, Chris have spent $960 FAAB! Elsewhere, Mike has $198 left and Lee $372.

11. Best Manager

Our second phase best manager is shared across your Commissioner, Alex, Chris and Ross. Dave, Gareth, Lee and Ross share our worst manager of the phase 🤡🤡

12. MVP Picker

Our second phase 'MVP Picker' award winner is your noble Commissioner with 6 top scoring players, four of those in week 7. 🗯️ Honourable mentions to Dave with 4. Gareth has the fewest outstanding players with not one top scoring player. 🙄

13. Benchwarmer

Your noble Commissioner, Dave, Rich and Ross seem to have few duds and win our 'Benchwarmer' Award winner with just one player winning a benchwarmer spot. 🤡 This may be a reflection on how awful their benches are.

In contrast, Lee has left masses of points on his benches 6 times [definitely not just a terrible, terrible selector of players]! 🙄 Honourable mention to Neil who have left some top players on their bench 4 times.

14. Week 10 – Basement Bowl

First up our interconference matchup is the 5th place finishers from last year, Alex and Chris. What a difference a year makes for these two teams! Both with identical winning records, have a 3-3 record and solidly in the playoff hunt. With average scores within 4 points of each other it looks set to be a close matchup!

LFC

In the LFC, top plays fourth with Dave playing Rich. It's a must win for Rich if he has any chance of a playoff spot but Dave will be looking to right the ship after a difficult mid-season slump. Dave has a 3-5 losing record to Rich so could the LFC playoff race (and destination for their trophy) about to be bust wide open?

In the other matchup Gareth is playing Mike which is looking like a done deal – Gareth is praying for Bryce Young to keep his job otherwise he has no active QBs! Things are bad enough as they are for the Mandos without adding a pick punishment! A big points loss plus the loss of a second-round pick is not a good look for the sporting integrity of the LFC. At least if Mike wins the LFC will get their third playoff spot back again.

MFC

Lee has his second trip to Canton this week, with a victory Lee would likely be a solid step closer to securing a playoff spot and send Chris and Ross into a heads-up battle to claim the last guaranteed playoff spot. However, a win for Neil could blow the playoff race wide open with all five teams in the mix!

Last up is your noble Commissioner vs Ross. A win for Ross will really put the pressure on Chris and Lee in their up-coming conference battles. However, the Commish is on a four-game winning streak, a 6-2 record over Ross and needs the win here to become the first team to make the playoffs. Ross' last two games were against the bottom teams of each conference – how will his side perform against one of the top teams?

15. Conclusion

It's been a good second phase of the season. There's been a few upsets, a couple of good trades and a hot chase for the playoffs and the elusive Championship belt, well elusive to most teams. No team has truly dominated with no one securing a playoff spot yet. All but one team could, technically, still make the playoffs. The conference matchups will make all the difference – lest we not forget that two years ago one team lost out on their playoff spot by just 38 points (less than 3 points per game). Every win, selection decision and point matters right now. There's still time to make moves to improve your fortunes or focus on the future before the trade deadline.
