

Jessica Alba Dynasty League – 2025 Season Review – Part One

1. Introduction

So gents, we are about third of the way through the regular season already so I thought I'd take the time to update you on our progress and hand out some minor awards.

2. Week 5

What a week 5 was with another record score – well, personal best – and the competition is really heating up (in the MFC)!

The MFC reigned supreme with a 3-2 win over the LFC. There was two absolute shellacking's Mike putting up the 4th best ever points at the Penitentiary and the Giants crushing the Mandos by nearly 80 points!

Elsewhere your noble Commissioner's hobbled side continued its poor start and fell to the Toolsy Prospects who have their own injury worries. Letterwang maintained their great start putting bave's breecetie boy's to the sword with a very decent score. And last but not least, the Rookie's underperformed but still got the win over an Inch by Inch side which did at least outperform their projected score.

League Leaders

As you all know, Mike and Lee are sitting pretty on top of the LFC and MFC, respectively. Both have a one game advantage over their conferences. 🏆

3. League Losers

It is Rich who is presently at the bottom of the pile in the LFC by just 9 points. In the MFC it is Chris who is at the base of the MFC on points over your noble Commissioner. 🤡

4. Top Scorer

Mike is also our highest points scorer with a record breaking 850.04 points with Lee behind on 763.88 points and Neil back in the playoff picture with 735.94 points. 🔥

5. Fewest Points

It's obviously Rich who has scored the fewest points with just 515.48. Next closest is Gareth who has 524.44 points. 🤡

6. Potential Points

Since we decide the draft order based on potential points, I'll give a short lowdown on those at the bottom of the conferences. It is unsurprisingly Rich who would be taking the highest available pick with 642.96, followed by Gareth at 651.62. In the MFC Chris would have the lowest pick with 770.56 and whoever has your noble Commissioner's pick next up with 855.48.

7. Best Defence

The best 'defence' has been Neil who has only conceded 602.90 points. The team who has conceded the most is Gareth as usual with 760.86 🏠

8. Least FAAB used

Neil has spent just $100!! 💰

Honourable mentions to Mike and Ross who have only spent $127.

9. Most FAAB used

In his desperation for trying to get back in the playoffs, your noble Commissioner has already spent $911 of his FAAB! Honourable mention to Chris who has spent $880.

10. Best Manager

Our best manager has been Lee with two awards. He is also out in front picking up 91.2% of his potential points. Honourable mentions to Dave at 85.4% and Mike at 85.2%. Our worst manager is Alex with two awards. He is also ahead with just 75.4% of his projected points. Your noble Commissioner is in second with 77.0% and Ross third at 78.9%. 🤖 🤖

11. MVP Picker

Mike is our 'MVP Picker' award winner with no fewer than 9 top scoring players. 🧠 Honourable mentions to Ross with 5. Dave, Gareth and Rich appear to have few outstanding players – they have just one top scoring player each. 🤔

12. Benchwarmer

Chris and Dave share our 'Benchwarmer' Award winner with no top scoring benchwarmers. 🧑🏽 This may be a reflection on how bad their benches are. Alex has left masses of points on his bench 7 times! Honourable mention to Neil with 5! 🧑🏽

13. Week 6

Once again it's an LFC vs MFC week! As the LFC are the home sides I'll go in reverse order of their conference. First up is a seeming dead rubber where your out of form champions are facing the team who fleeced him of his first round picks, Rich. It would be a gargantuan shock if Rich managed a victory this week but stranger things have already happened this season!

Next up is Gareth who is welcoming the Boy Scouts to Mandolore. Gareth's team is plagued by injuries too but the bye weeks have been unkind to Letterwang. It would still be a massive surprise if Gareth were to win but he's overcome a larger disadvantage before!

Next up is the battle of the Old Testament winners. The breecetie boys are favourites and both teams are more or less not impacted by the bye weeks. It looks like it will be an exciting battle that may go down to the wire.

Next up is the Toolsy Prospects have the Felons on day release coming to town. Chris will be keen to get his season back on track as he's traded some future picks to get to the playoffs this season and not sit bottom of the table. They face a team coming off back-to-back wins and not impacted by the bye weeks. He has been impacted by a load of injuries but is still ahead in projections. Will Chris let his Felons smash and grab or will the Prospects have their tools nicely locked away?

Last but not least is the Eagles based franchise which has been scoring points for fun....and at record pace...face up to another that's been scoring handsomely, Neil and his Giants. Another team based on their personal allegiance. With Neil more impacted by the bye week and Mike's excellent form, a victory for the Eagles team seems likely.

14. Conclusion

It's been a great start to the season with most teams in with a good shout of making the playoffs. There's still time to make moves to improve your fortunes or focus on the future.

Some questions remain: Will anyone be able to catch Lee and Mike? Will your noble Commissioner win another game? Can the MFC steal a 4th playoff spot from the LFC? Are we witnessing the dawn of a post-Bucs renaissance for Mike?